Nick,

As indicated in our email notice of award to you (copied below), your MRFS BPA end date shall not exceed the end date of your MAS contract against which it was awarded. Your MAS contract (GS06F0032K) will expire on 06/30/2020.

This is our advance notice that your BPA will be ending on that date, and all MRFS BPA item listings must be removed from gsaadvantage.gov as well as the other platforms where your BPA pricing and terms are on offer, such as DoD FedMall, your own website, catalog, etc., on that date.

We will follow-up again closer to the end date with any follow-up administrative actions related.

Thank you,
Stephen

Congratulations!

Your quote in response to solicitation QSDM-B0-183400-A (eBuy RFQ1326917) has been found successful for award.

The enclosed documents detail the extent of your award. Please read them carefully.

Please sign and return the form SF-1449(s) as soon as possible.

The item quote files attached reflect the pricing on your original submission. They serve as our record of the initial items that you will be offering for sale on the BPAs. In order to load your correct pricing in the most efficient and accurate manner, follow the MAS discount percentage noted in the SF 1449 Addendum attached. That MAS discount reflects the final negotiated pricing after all additional discounts were obtained (whether line item discounts, or percentage discounts on all items, as also noted in addendum).

Your quote file was too large to attach but its Google Drive link is here. Please access it using the gmail that you established during evaluations.

After we receive your signed documents, we will provide further instructions regarding loading your BPA items to gsadventure.gov as well as our kickoff meeting.

IMPORTANT - Additional MAS Expiration Information

In your BPA submission, the MAS contract that you quoted expires as shown below in the chart. Based on current MAS policy, your BPA end date cannot exceed the end date of your MAS contract. As such your BPA end date for the applicable Schedule below, will be coterminous with your MAS end date shown below. As your end date approaches, we will notify you again to confirm the end of your BPA and any necessary close out actions.
